Student Awareness Club, Student Council, and the National Honor Society drove home the message that
"itis better to give than to receive".
Pushing the "Seasons of Giving" slogan, SAC raised over $400 for Christmas is for Kids. Student Council similarly aided Lenore's Kitchen, and NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY donated money to a scholarship at the Hockomock YMCA.

While (LUBS) such as SADD and SAC stressed in volvered, the seniors took a decidedly different course. They evidenced definite signs of senioritis when they unveiled their homecoming theme: "Four years of caring, and stuff". The sophomores and juniors, however, quickly pulled us out of that DETOUR. For the second year in a row, juniors garnered first prize in the float competition.

Sophomores showed their school spirit by winning the spirit contest at the rally.

For SENIORS four years at North, while hardly a path strewn with roses, hasn't been a long day's journey into night, either. No matter what path we choose or IR O A ID we take, One Way or Another we are certain to sometimes LGGK BACK at Landry Avenue.

SENIOR PROM

The words of Billy Joel remind us, "This is the time to remember" and for this senior class, February 21, 1996 was "a day to hold on to" forever in our memories. The Senior Prom was held in the creme and gold-filled ballroom of the Westin Hotel in Providence.

As the weeks wound down before this magical night, no one could believe that we were going to attend our last prom! A sense of finality increased the tensions of finding the best dress, the matching flowers and tux, or the perfect hairstyle. However, as soon as the first couple took to the ballroom floor, the scene relaxed. Shoes and jackets were shed, bobby pins shaken out, and dresses hiked up. Students prioritized fun and dancing over appearances. Our class truly came together as a group of friends for the first time.

There were only compliments on the food, especially the chocolate mousse; the D.J. rocked the house with a smorgasbord of every type of music, and every student walked away with very practical lrish "coffee mugs".

Class History

In September of 1992, our class entered the uncertain halls of North Attleboro High School as the "Itty-bitty" Freshmen. We were soon massed into the auditorium for our first of many encounters with Mr. Whitty and Mr. Pickering. They assured us to feel comfortable in our new surroundings as long as we stayed in our Freshmen pit, sat silent in studies, and steered clear of the media center. Upon leaving for homeroom, you could say, our worries were not appeased.

Within weeks, we picked up upon the donut-shaped hallways and managed to get to class on time, but we still had to work on becoming part of the crowd. There was no competition for student government, electing Nick Gordon as President, Kelly Gorman as Vice-President, and Nicole Berg as Secretary/Treasurer. We sat dumbfounded in the spirit contest during the pep-rallies and didn't shine through in artistic talent as we received third place in the homecoming float contest. There was a small amount of competition electing Elizabeth Fisher and Katie Parks to the student council and our class voted Nicole Berg and Katie Parks to the homecoming court.

However, by the end of the year members of our class came shining through, showing star varsity athletes, acting precision, and music extraordinairs. This class was definitely up and coming.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

During our Sophomore year, we elected Niki Berg, President, Kelly Gorman, Vice-President, Holly Charest, Treasurer, and Kim Breen, Secretary. We snatched first place in the spirit contest, emerging from the dead silence of Freshman year. We took second place in the float competition and at Homecoming Niki Berg and Kim Breen stood on the Queen's Court. The class participated in many fund raisers which enabled us to have a successful Freshman/Sophomore Social and still left us on a good standing for our up-coming years.

After two great years, the class would continue excellence in the classrooms, on the athletic fields, and throughout our community. Knowing how vital Junior year would be the class voted Nick Gordon, President, Jake Hale, Vice-President, Holly Charest, Treasurer, and Kim Breen as the Secretary.

Throughout the year, Juniors made names for themselves as they reached unthinkable heights within our school. The class portrayed this with the memorable float known as "Taz." However, our float was barely outdone and we could only be left standing proud. Representing us in the Homecoming Court were Kim Breen and Katie Parks.

Our Junior Jets represented our class at the annual Powderpuff Football game. Working so hard and scrapping for a victory, the girls fell just short by two points.

Before we knew it, it was April and that means the biggest event of the year, the Junior Prom. Under the city lights of Providence, the class danced the night away to their theme "Imagine." They celebrated atop the Biltmore Hotel. Kim Breen was honored as queen while Mark DeBiasio was voted as king.

The hard work displayed by the class made our treasury grow financially. A successful concession stand with the prom enabled the class to sit comfortably as they headed to Senior year.

Before we knew it, the year was gone. We gave our time to academics and athletics while saving energy for fun on the outside.

Three years were already gone and we were about to encounter the biggest step of all, Senior Year!

SENIOR YEAR

It was time to take our final step and we knew that it was going to be the quickest year of all. We would need to use our three previous, successful years to boost us through our final one. To lead us through the year we were lucky enough to have Nick Gordon serve as President for three quarters, Jake Hale serve as Vice-President, Holly Charest, Treasurer, and Nicole Berg as our Secretary.

The year started off with a bang as Home-coming weekend rolled around. Kim Breen represented us as our queen with Katie Parks and Liz Fisher joining her on the court. Boys were voted to the Homecoming Court for the first time and the class was represented by Nick Gordon as king. He was joined by Jake Hale and Mark DeBiasio. The seniors actually put forth an effort in trying to win the Float competition but our efforts fell just short as we were runner up once again.

Never had a year passed by like this one and before we knew it, the annual Powder Puff football game was upon us. Led by the coaching ability of just about every senior boy, our Sharks were upset by the Junior jets on some questionable calls made by the referees.

Prom time came up again once February rolled around. The Senior Prom was held at the Westin Hotel in Providence where Jon Babul reigned as king and Michelle Neveux Prom queen. On this magical night the class danced to their prom theme "This is the time".

It was now time for each student to look into their own future. Plans were to be made on which paths to take and dreams to follow. The class of 1996 would like to be remembered as one with an identity. Since little children we carried each other to get to this point in our lives and now we will go our own ways. The class of 1996 wishes to thank Mr. Whitty, Mr. Pickering, Mrs. Barber and our devoted class advisors, Mr. Guthrie, Mr. Senecal, and Mrs. Carey. We thank everyone who has helped us along the way. The class of 1996 wishes all underclassmen good luck and good bye.

No matter which year you look, these two heartbreakers, Katie Parks and Kelly Gorman, will always be Best Pals.

Friendliest, Craig Bleak and Maegan McCormick, are always willing to stop and say, "Hi!"

Mr. Baldasaro, "for an 'A', I give thee my duck . . . and a back massage!" As Teacher's Pet, Brian Lako and Jaclynne Martell know how to sweet talk.

What happened? Victoria Granville and Jesse Armell have obviously done a little growing up to become Most Changed Since Freshman Year.

As the next Calvin Kleins of fashion, Kerry D'Onfrio and Dan Forrest will leave NAHS knowing they were Best Dressed.

All hail Jon and Michelle! Jonathon Babul and Michelle Neveux bask in the glory of being Best Looking.

Hey Liz Fisher and Bryan McLean, "Were your parents thieves? Well, who stole the stars and put them in your Best Eyes?"

 $Look\ out\ Bob\ Ross\ and\ Demi\ Moore!\ North\ Attleboro's\ \textbf{Most}\ \textbf{Talented}\ duo,\ Gina\ Carioggia\ and\ Jason\ Viola\ are\ close\ behind\ you.$

"Anything for a laugh!", John LeCompte says as he's shoved into the trash-filled barrel by Becky Skolski, $Class\ Clowns$ of '96.

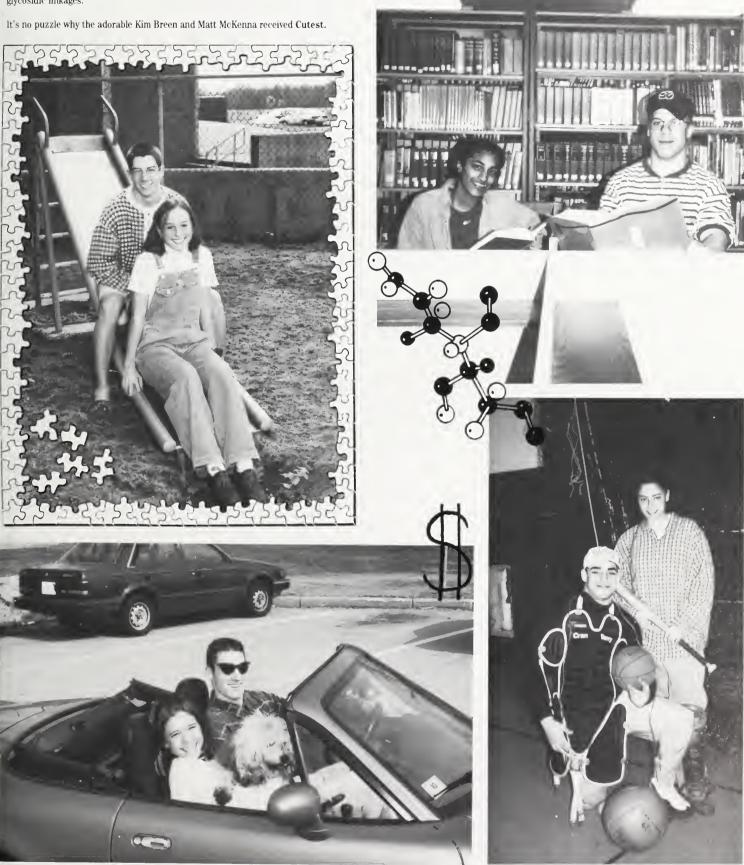

Well Mr. Whitty, it doesn't look like you'll be getting rid of all of us, because Brian Droney and Liz Ilolt are Most Likely to Return as a Sub.

 $NAHS's \ \textbf{Smartest}, A arti \ Sekhar \ and \ Mark \ DeBiasio \ ponder \ over \ alpha-galactose \ and \ its \ glycosidic \ linkages.$

his is the life! Nicole Berg and Mike Babul take off towards a ture that is Most Likely To Succeed.

Does anybody actually know how to use all this equipment? Well, I guess Anthony Pirri and Kate Bullock do because they are Most Athletic.

MISSMYOU

With the start of school in September, over 200 new students embarked on their journey through North High. After adjusting to the new freedom and pressures of high school, these Freshmen let their presence be known. Names of Freshman achievers appeared on the honor roll as well as on Varsity team lists.

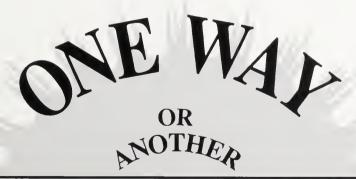

The Sophomores, meanwhile, continued to blaze their own trail. They won the rally spirit contest and enjoyed a hugely successful Social. Hopefully, they will retain their enthusiasm for the next two years.

Still grasping their newly-printed driver's licences, the members of the Junior Class sped through their "most important year of high school". Driving tests, the prom, SAT's, college visits, and even a Powderpuff victory could not slow them down. Now, as they complete their last course selection sheet, Juniors pause for a little reflection before gearing up for the road ahead.

The teachers and staff at N. Attleboro High face a dual task. They must let their students assume the drivers' seat and counsel them so they don't swerve off course.

They did this out of class by writing recommendations, by advising various activities, and by serving as confidants to their students. In the classroom, North teachers continued to instruct and entertain, sometimes even to inspire and enlighten.

Juniors • Class of '97

September 1995 marked a new beginning for the Class of '97. With Marcia Sajewicz, President, Christy Bradley, Vice President, Mandi Chevers, Secretary, and Mark Cheng, Treasurer, the class officers set out to make this year the best yet. The Juniors not only won the float competition, but defied tradition by winning the Powderpuff game. With lots of class spirit, athletic ability, and the "Funky Chicken" play, the Juniors pulled off an amazing victory.

The officers implemented a monthly newsletter with a suggestion sheet to keep the Juniors involved with class activities and events. They also raised money by running the basketball concession stand, starting an after school concession stand in the lobby, and continuing to recycle the aluminum cans.

A Night to Remember

The Junior Prom

Although rain darkened the sky on the night of April 16, 1996, Junior spirits would not be dampened. Countless limos braved the weather and crowded the entrance of the Omni Biltmore Hotel in Providence.

Excited promgoers jammed the famous glass elevator for a quick trip up to the 17th floor - where the spectacular ballroom awaited them. After a "typical" Prom meal and many pictures, the court was announced. For the first time in years, Mr. Whitty took a break and let Class Advisor Mr. Estey do the honors. Led by Queen Kate Beith and King Chris Rushlow, the Juniors danced to their theme "With or Without You" by U2.

Club Confetti's provided the music, and the Juniors and their guests soon had the dance floor rockin' and the windows of the ballroom all steamed up. Junior Jen Pacheco thought the ballroom looked "absolutely beautiful," and many Juniors were pleased with the diversity of the students on this year's court.

After eating and dancing the night away, the Juniors left the Omni Biltmore excited to go to the many after-prom festivities, but sad that this magical evening was almost over.

With the help of our class advisor, Mr. Jutras, we made some money and gave back to the community with several fundraising projects: we sold snacks at the J.V. games and had our first annual baby-sitting service on the busiest shopping day of the year. Our Social, held in December, entertained the largest crowd ever.

The Class of '98 continued to excel both academically and athletically, with a high percent of Sophomores achieving honor roll status and playing starting varsity sports roles.

Class officers were President Andrea Kurrle, Vice-President Meghan Connor, Treasurer Crystal Ballou, and Secretary Kate Ring.

On the night of December 8, the anticipation of one of the most memorable Freshmen / Sophomore Socials was put to rest as one of the largest crowds entered the High School's lunchroom. Everyone was immediately delighted as they were greeted with festive red and white balloons, hundreds of twinkling lights, and plenty of sparkling confetti. "The decorations committee did such a great job, we forgot we were just in the cafeteria," said Sophomore Stacey Philibert.

Soon everyone hit the dance floor (A.K.A. Freshmen Pit) and showed off their moves to all the oldest and latest hits. Enthusiasm was so high that the Freshmen Pit was soon jam-packed and some of the dancers started a new tradition by dancing in the Senior Pit. Another thing that set this year apart from others was the larger number of Upperclassmen attending the Social.

Although it seemed to go by so quickly, everyone was left with a lasting impression of a wonderful night.

Freshmen • Class of '99

As the last class of the decade, for that matter, the century, the Class of '99 is one that represents amazing academic potential, athleticism, and most of all "Big Red Pride."

Right from the start, school spirit was apparent, as many Freshman and officers gathered to make a great float. We also put together an extremely successful Freshmen/Sophomore Social.

With the help of Freshmen Class Advisor Mrs. Beaudoin, President Rishi Shukla, Vice-President Alissa Tedesco, Secretary Melissa Dyer, and Treasurer Jennifer Siewers, the Freshmen Class had a fun and exciting year. If the future is as bright as the Class of '99, many more successful years are in store!

International Students

Students from around the world bring new cultures to North High.

Each year, international students bring new faces, ideas, and cultures to North High. This year, we were lucky enough to have four exchange students. We also had three new students who transferred from other countries. We hosted students from Sweden, Australia, Russia, Kazakhstan, and Slovakia, and gained new students from the Netherlands and Hong Kong. These international students added diversity to our student body, while giving students the opportunity to make friends from other countries.

For the most part, the North students were very receptive to the exchange students. Katarina Zapotocha thought everyone here was really nice and said, "I spent some time in Uxbridge before, and I like it better here."

Some of the exchange students took advantage of the many activities at North. Julia Kulinich, Peta Franklin, and Katarina were all involved in the Drama Club, while Niklas Andersson enjoyed participating in the soccer and track programs.

The international students seemed to enjoy both the school and the community and we wish them the best of luck in the future!

G'day Peta! Though she left to go back to Australia half-way through the year, we will never forget our friend from "down under".

Girls and Boys stride down a long, winding road to rebuild their teams.

After losing seven talented seniors last year, the Girls Cross Country team was in a rebuilding stage this year. However, under the leadership of Coach Dwight Estey, and captains Amanda Childs and Aarti Sekhar, the team achieved another winning season with their record of 5-3.

After tough losses in the beginning of the season to KP, Foxboro, and Sharon, the team refocussed their energies and went on to win the next four meets. According to senior Jaclynne Martell, "I think our last meet against Franklin and O.A. was definitely our best one. Both of our opponents were really strong, but we came together as a team and beat them. And every single North runner improved their best time! It was a great way to retire the course."

Upon finishing their regular season, the team went on to fare well in the bigger meets. They went on to improve till the end of the season. At the Hockomock League Championships, the team got 5th place. Junior Emily Girls field hockey team continues tradition of excellence, once again making it to state tourney.

Led by co-captains Kelly Gorman, and Mellisa Carroll, the field hockey team had a very successful season. "The captains were always positive and excited, never down," said Junior Kate Beith. Under pressure to repeat and improve on last year's success, North qualified for the Division 1 State Tournament. The team pulled together under the positive attitude of new coach Deb Charrette.

From the start, aggressiveness and spirit were two main qualities of the team. The team was known for their stifling defense and powerful offense, which gave them the strength and skill to win. They hope to continue their success next year. According to Junior Jackie Phipps, "We were very successful this year, and we will be next year too, because we have a young, potent front line."

Phipps herself was one of the leading scorers in the Hockomock League. She was named Team MVP, League MVP, and Boston Globe All-Star. Courtney Canali also recieved Sun-Chronicle and Hockomock League All-Star Honors. With a strong base of players returning next year, the team is looking to surpass their expectations once again.

Endurance

The team caps off another Super Bowl appearance.

The 1995 Red Rocketeer football team, under the direction of head Coach Ray Beaupre, made its mark in the school's history by winning the Hockomock League Championship with a 10-0 regular season record, and being just the fifth team to learn a berth in the Division III Super Bowl.

Led by captains Brian Droney, Jason Kipp and Mark De Biasio, this team set itself apart from any other. With a combination of loyalty, toughness, and discipline, this group of guys defied all odds to deny its predicted sixth place finish in the Hockomock League.

Known as the "cardiac kids," North pulled out numerous last minute wins with their fourth quarter rush. A win against a tough Stoughton team, and a 14-13 win over an overpowering Foxboro team in front of a jam packed Community Field were amongst these great games, but the most impressive was the comeback at Franklin. A 26-6 deficit with three minutes left in the third quarter was a mere measure of heart as the Rocketeers churned out 23 unanswered points to win 29-26.

The offensive line, anchored by Seniors Jason Kipp and Sean Cragan, dominated opponents leaving nothing but open field for the backfield composed of junior quarterback Jesse Austin, Brian Droney, Anthony Pirri, and Mark De Biasio. Riding side by side with the offense was the team's defense. Although not blessed with overpowering size, these eleven guys did what it took to find the ball and shut down opposing offenses, even keeping the high-powered Mansfield offense to only seven points.

1995 also witnessed the commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Thanksgiving Day Football Game with a battle that was later named "A Game For the Ages." One of the most exciting games in Turkey-Day history took place at North Attleboro High School amidst a plethora of pregame festivities. The game came down to a defining 72 yard drive by the Rocketeers in the last minutes of regulation. which culminated with a five vard pass into the end zone from Austin to Dronev with 27 seconds left. Droney's three touchdown performance presented him with the Balfour Trophy for the best offensive player.

Even though the football team of '95 didn't win the Division III B Super Bowl against a formidable Marshfield team, their accomplishments throughout the season certainly were not overshadowed by this defeat. The team, littered with all-stars, gave all of its supporters an enjoyable year, a year that will surely be remembered forever. The trio of Ryan Gazzola, Chris Rushlow, and Dave Weber carry the duties over to next year, as they were selected as captains for the 1996 season.

For the first time since 1989 the boys team advanced to the state tournament.

For only the second time in school history, the boys soccer team qualified for the state tournament. The boys lost in the first round to BC High 2-0, but that loss didn't put a dent in their season. The team finished with a record of 9-7-2. "We learned how to win close games," said junior PJ Koutrouba.

The bright spot of the season came halfway through the year when the team put together a six game winning streak. During this streak they beat such power houses as Brocton, Mansfield, and King Philip. "Our seniors really led the way during our streak. They made everybody step up their game," said Junior Chris DelaHoussave.

Sweeper PJ Koutrouba and senior goalie Brian Gebhardt were named as league All-Stars. PJ Koutrouba also received the defensive award for the team, Jake Hale received the offensive award, Ray Howell was voted Unsung Hero, and Brian Gebherdt received MVP from the team.

Captains-elect PJ Koutrouba and Matt Kearney have the tough task of preparing next year's team to meet or exceed this year's accomplishments.

Hard work and effort brought the girls closer to victory.

The girls soccer team had another rough season. Although the final record of 0-16-2 does not show all of their pride and determination, the team learned to play together and always played hard until the final whistle blew. "Unfortunately, we didn't win as many games as we had hoped, but the effort was there," said senior Erin Carroll.

The most memorable and upsetting game of the season was against Attleboro, where the teams fought to take home the Blue and Red Cup. "After three losses in a row, we thought it was our turn to win," said co-captain Melanie Gordon. The game was tied at 0-0, but North lost in a sudden-death shoot-out. "Our team out-played them," said co-captain Liz Holt. "It was upsetting to watch a game that intense end in a shoot-

The golf team performed up to par and finished second in the League.

This year's golf season was a success and yet in some ways a disappointment. The team finished second in the league with a 12-2-2 record, just behind Canton, who had no losses and one tie against North.

Coming into the season, the team was confident that they had a bid for the Hockomock Championship. Though there were a few let downs early in the season, the team fought a tough battle. Behind the leadership of captains John LeCompte and Myles Sigman, and Seniors Tom Raposa and Erik Bristow, all starters, the team believed they had the experience and talent to win it all.

Next year, without the seniors, the team will look to remaining starters, juniors Matt Shoop and freshman Eddy Hunt to lead the team to another successful season.

The Girls' team qualifies for another state tournament.

Once again, the North Attleboro High School girls volleyball team made history. A state tournament game was played at home for the first time ever. Supported by the band and many excited fans, North Attleboro beat Fontbonne Academy, three games to zero. As Coach Curty said, "Girls' volleyball really made its mark at North Attleboro High School after that win." North then traveled to Barnstable High School, where they lost to the eventual state champions.

Although lacking experience, this year's team had lots of pride, skill, and determination, finishing with a respectable 12-10 record. Senior co-captains Liz Fisher and Melissa Gagne earned the Rocketeer Award and Coaches Award. Junior Christy Penney recieved the Sportsmanship Award and Junior Rachel Taylor was voted the Most Improved Player. Kate Bullock was named team MVP, and along with Liz Fisher, was also elected to the Sun Chronicle All-Star Team, with Kelly Finnegan and Alisha Durant as Honorable Mentions. Next year's co-captains are Alisha Durant and Rachel Taylor.

Hoop Dreams

The boys team recaptures their Hockomock League crown on their way to taking second place in Division 2 South Sectional finals.

The 95-96 North Attleboro High School Boys Basketball season was a great success. It was a year for the record books because they broke the record for most wins in a season (22) and went the furthest in the MIAA State Tournament. The team went further than any other team has gone in school history by making it to the South Sectional Finals.

The Senior dominated team, led by Co-captains, the Babul brothers, went undefeated in the Hockomock League. Mike will be heading to UMASS next year and Jon will be going down south to Georgia Tech.

Mike Babul led the team with his scoring, and past the 1000 pt. plateau. Jon was the second leading scorer, and helped the team with rebounds and blocked shots.

The three other starters; Anthony Pirri, Myles Sigman and Kyle Schweitz did their part in leading the team to victory. Pirri was a 3 year veteran and made solid contributions for the team. Sigman was in his first year as a full time varsity player and did a great job running the team at the point guard postion. Schweitz was a warrior in the low post and sacrificed his own personal glory for the better of the team, he was a great role player.

The underclassmen improved throughout the year and received the experience they need to dominate the Hockomock next year, a tradition which has started with the '96 senior class.

Teamwork

After an eight-year drought, the girls team wins the Hockomock League Championship and advances to the South Sectional Division 2 finals.

To claim the title of Hockomock Champs for the first time in four years was something that the Girls Basketball Team thought was almost impossible. With a lot of dedication and tremendous hard work the girls finished with an overall record of 19-5. "I was very proud of the team this year and what they accomplished over the season," said Coach Sarah Behn.

With only two years of Behn's coaching at North, it was not only a great accomplishment for the team to capture the Hockomock Title, but also for Coach Behn. The team displayed a great sense of team unity, which helped the players become South Sectional finalists. Without the leadership of their captain, Kate Bullock, none of the team's success would be possible. "We had a great season because of how well the team cooperated on and off the court," explains captain Kate Bullock.

The team's most exciting game of the season was against Feehan. At halftime they were down by 16 with a score of 30-14. The girls came back to win by 10 in overtime. with a score of 55 to 45. This game not only demonstrated their ability to never give up, but it also showed how excellant the team worked together. Even though the team has young members, with only losing one Senior, Kate Bullock, the team hopes to defend the Hockomock Title once again.

The Boys Track Team overcomes a slow start to finish up the season with victory.

The 1995-1996 Boys Indoor Track Team entered its rebuilding stage. In the beginning of the season, the team pulled together hoping to make up for the loss of captain Pat Beith, who had a stress fracture. The team's performance after their loss to K.P. proved their determination. Finally, after many weeks of hard work, the team finished with a 6-2 record by winning the last six meets.

It was a season that yielded many individual accomplishments. Seniors Pat Beith, Latif Thomas, and Shawn Kelly all came home with League Championships. Pat Beith was undefeated in the 55 m., Latif Thomas was the champion in the 300 m., and Shawn Kelly triumphed in the shot-put event. These three seniors also received Sun Chronicle All-Stars. The other four Seniors, Craig Bleak, Jake Hale, Brian Droney, and Nik Andersson, did their parts in contributing to the success of the team.

"Even though the team is losing talented Seniors, there are many skilled underclassmen that will help continue the rebuilding stage," said co-captain Pat Beith. There is a lot of hope for next year's team. Captains-elect Chris Mitchell and Matt Livingstone look forward to a winning season next year.

E xtraordinary

The girls Indoor team came through with smiles and spirit.

The Girls Winter Track team ended the 1996 season with a dual-meet record of 4-4. However, these numbers do not represent the spirit and determination of this team. Under the leadership of Laurie Blake, Katie Parks, and Aarti Sekhar, the girls team had a very memorable season.

This year's season was filled with its ups and downs. Bad weather and limited gym time detracted from steady practicing. However, this group of fourty-six girls could not be stopped. Distance runners combatted the freezing temperatures and piles of snow on their daily runs. Meanwhile, shot putter, hurdlers, and highjumpers could often be found coming back to school at 8:00 P.M. to use the gym. Sprinters were stuck running upstairs, trying to avoid shin splints. Because of these practicing conditions it was hard to keep the team unified. However, the support given at the meets showed that everyone had retained their North pride and spirit.

The grueling work-outs began to payoff half-way through the season. The team won their last four meets and there were a number of "P-R's" and commendable performances at the Hocks and the State meet. Junior newcomer Kate Beith, was the top point-scorer for the team, and also received Sun Chronicle All-Stars, along with senior Amanda Childs.

Best of Luck to Co-captains-elect Shannon Coleman and Chrissy McHoul and the rest of the Girls Winter Track Team.

North wrestling begins a new era and builds a new generation of talented wrestlers.

This year's wrestling team worked to exhaustion. The team struggled to keep up with the fleet-footed Steve Bibby and Justin Herght during running work-outs. Most of the team could not keep pace with the speed of Eric Carlson's drilling in practice and the rate of Neal Sharma's fungi growth.

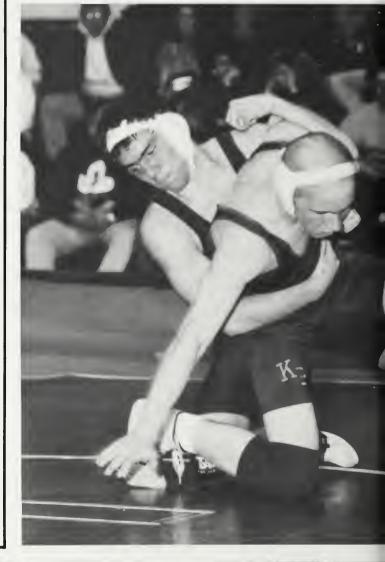

Ben Caranci was king on the mat and advanced towards the State tournament. Scott Langille, when not wrestling, was scanning his black book for a date. Sophomore Superstars Buzz Parker and Mike Berg provided key wins, while Derek Burr is still trying to fight off his back and Pete McCormick, is still trying to fight back tears that aren't there. Zach Hamilton and Chris Tosti provided enough grime for the rest of the team and Ryan Folan provided the after practice massages. Matt Conley and Matt Allen were the funniest, no buts about it, and Tom "Flex" Titmas powered his way to huge wins this year.

The rest of the underclassmen all have the determination and skills to be great wrestlers. All in all this year was enjoyable and rewarding.

Post-season, all varsity wrestlers advanced to the Sectionals. From there several wrestlers went on to states, with Caranci additionally competing at the All-State and New England tournaments. Next year's captains Caranci and Sharma look to lead the team to continued success.

This year's gymnastics team exhibited pride and sportsmanship in reaching the sectional and state tournaments.

The 95-96 Gymnastics team had an incredible season with a record of 10-3. They went against many competitive teams and came out victorious in most of these competitions. With the hardest meet against Canton, the Rocketeers showed their skills in dominating each of the events. Unfortunately Canton matched their skills and came out victorious by one point. "Hopefully next year we will finally beat Canton. After ten years of being undefeated, it will be a shock to everyone when they lose next year," says captain Elana Swain.

This year the team qualified for Sectionals with the help of many underclassmen. Missy Famiglietti and Erica Nunes exibited their ability to perform at great heights by advancing to the State meet. After showing off her remarkable talent, Erica Nunes moved on to compete in the New Englands.

Captain Elana Swain overcame an injury and built up the courage to compete on the vault. At the Hockomock League meet she captured 4th place, by giving an exceptional performance on the vault.

There were a lot of talented freshmen on the team that gained the experience they need to help defeat their upcoming rivals. Next year there will be more athletes who will hopefully contribute to the team's success. "Even though we were not Hockomock Champs, this year we improved so much that we qualified for sectionals. I am almost positive we will be Champs next year," comments Senior captain Elena Swain.

The football cheerleaders exhibit their immense school spirit and pride, and demonstrate their excellent athleticism.

The 1995 Football Cheerleaders kept very busy even before their season started. After a hard week of tryouts in May, the Cheerleaders attended a summer camp in June. Fund raisers filled any of their free time for the rest of the summer. As the first day of school approached, the Cheerleaders prepared for their season. Practicing daily, they performed and perfected their half-time routine which incorporated stunts, jumps, dances and cheers.

The Cheerleaders kept school spirit up by decorating the school hallways and by organizing many rallies throughout the season. They kept every student and faculty member having fun with spirit contests, crazy contests and a slide show. The cheerleaders motivated the Football team by decorating the boys locker room with encouraging signs and posters. The team spent countless hours livening up the Senior hallway with banners, posters, and balloons. Working with the band, the cheerleaders performed outstanding halftime shows. They encouraged the players and the audience with sideline cheers combined with band songs. The most exciting part of the season, was cheering the football team to a Hockomock Championship. Overall, the season was a great success, led by Coach Patti Johnson and Captain Maegan McCormick.

Motivation

The competition cheerleading squad surpassed expectations with a combination of pride and determination.

"We've learned that every great challenge was once considered impossible." This was the quote the Varsity Basketball/Competition Cheerleading team adopted for the 1995-1996 season. The twenty member squad, with Coach Patti Johnson and captains, Maegan McCormick and Angie Amorim, endured three months of practice and basketball games preparing for competition.

The season began at the Warwick Vets High School competition, where they captured first place. Two weeks later, they competed at Milford High School and again took first place.

The next weekend, the competition squad hosted the North Cheerleading competition, where the team was named Hockomock Champions. Early the next morning the team went to Chicopee High School, where they took first place and also received a perfect score overall.

David Prouty High School was the squad's next destination, where the team received a first place trophy and championship t-shirts.

The team's final competition approached. Plagued by sickness and injuries, the team pulled together for the State Competition. Despite a good performance, the team received a disappointing third place.

Overall the season was incredible. For the first time in ten years, the cheerleaders won five first place trophies. Coach Johnson feels, "We took the only road we knew-the road of hard work and determination." Each member of the team, freshmen to seniors, contributed everything they had to this team, the proof being the success of the season. Coach Patti Johnson believes, "This season has been tough, but that's what makes us so special. We wanted to be great and never settle for less."

Field of Dreams

North Baseball does not stand for 2nd best and advances to the State Tournament.

This year's baseball team entered the season with high hopes and high expectations. Coming off a very successful season last year, the team knew that they would need to work extra hard to make the tournament again.

The team was clearly senior-dominated, with 10 upperclassmen on the roster, and they lead the team with good attitudes and talented ability. However, the underclassmen provided the key to making the state tournament. According to co-captian Shawn O'Grady, "We needed to get good pitching from all the underclassmen. Without them, we wouldn't have made it half as far."

The team ended the regular season with a record of 10-6 in the Hockomock League. The season was full of ups and downs, ending in a late-season surge which was capped by the decisive victory over Foxboro. The team finished as runners-up to the League champions.

Overall, the season was a success. With a strong core of the pitching laying in the underclassmen, the future looks bright for next year.

Team spirit and determination defies the record.

The nineteen ninety-six softball team's record of 6-14 was not reflective of their tremendous enthusiasm and sportsmanship shown by all players during the season. According to co-captain Liz Holt, "There was a lot of potential on the team, but in the big games the team could not seem to capitalize for the wins."

The softball team gave it their all when they went against their most powerful opponents, Franklin and Stoughton. Even though the team was not victorious, their hitting and defensive skills shown during the game displayed difinite signs of improvement from earlier in the season. When it was time for North to play Canton, the Canton team assumed that they would blow North away. The Canton team seemed quite surprised when the blowout they anticipated turned to be quite a thriller.

Even though the softball season was not as successful as the team would have hoped, the team displayed a tremendous amount of determination and teamwork. Although the seniors will be missed next year, they have paved the way for the upcoming underclassmen, who have shown signs of a promising Rocketeer future.

At the Net

Both tennis teams reached their goals and went on to the State Tournaments.

After an outstanding season last year, the girls tennis team had high standards set before them. By finishing as undefeated Hockomock League champions, the girls lived up to these expectations.

The seniors, captain Kate Bullock and Melanie Gordon, formed a nucleus of experienced players on the team. Playing at 1st and 2nd doubles, they helped secure many key points in important matches. The underclassmen played a major role, with Kristin Robert at 1st singles and Carrie Perkoski at 2nd singles. With this strong core of players returning next year, the team plans to keep their winning tradition alive.

Under the leadership of Coach Carman, the team exhibited hard work and intensity through the entire season, and looks to contiue their success into next year.

- Eva Wojewoda

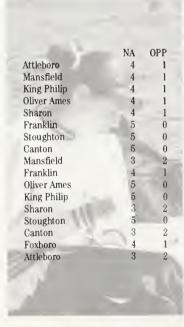

With only two returning seniors, this year's boys tennis team relied on their underclassmen for the strength to achieve their goals. Led by captain Mike Britton, the team was victorious in most of their matches. With wins from the underclassmen and other team members, the team pulled together and made it to the tournment.

Unfortunately the team lost in the first round to Needham. Reflecting on the season, Junior Andy Chisholm says, "We achieved our goal of making it to States, and we weren't disappointed with the outcome."

Finishing Strong

Boys Track Team overcomes 2nd place in the league and wins the championships.

The North boys track team got off to a rocky start losing to K.P. in their first dual meet. Through the confusion of reschedualed meets the team managed to pull together and conquer their next meet against Foxboro. With the help from the senior tri-captains, Latif Thomas, Shawn Kelly and Pat Beith, the North boys track team ended their season with a 3rd place in the Hockomock League and a 6-2 record.

Even though the team received 3rd place in the league, they came back to win the Hockomock Championships. Many team members contributed to this win, for instance; Pat Beith won the 100 m, Shawn Kelly received 1st place in the shot put and discus, and Jesse Austin also received a first place in the javelin event.

Due to the unexpected injury to Latif Thomas in the later season, he will be leaving Jesse Austin to fend for himself and to finish the victory he started last year at State Finals.

With the losses to two of the toughest teams in the league, "It was sweet revenge when we beat them in the Hock", says Coach Chris Perron. The North boys track team is looking forward to next year's season with the hopes of winning it all.

The Fast Track

The Girls track team's talent helps them to capture 2nd place in the league.

With a record of 6-2 in the Hockomock League and 8-2 overall, the girls track team achieved tremendous success. The tone of the season was set early when the team won back the trophy at the Kelly-Muscato Relays. Lead by tricaptains Stacie Bartlett, Amanda Childs, and Aarti Sekhar, the track team had an incredible year. Each season, Coach Estey uses the senior's dedication as a way to measure the success of the team. "Based on that, we had a remarkable year. Seniors had their best year ever," according to Coach Es-

For the first time in two years, the team won their meet against Franklin. "We weren't expecting to win, but we blew them away," explains Junior Deb Flannagan.

Members of team smashed the shuttle hurdles, sprint medley, and four by four relay records, as well as other individual records.

At the Hockomock League meet, the team finished second overall. Shirley Valcourt, Emily Estey, Kate Beith, and Alisha Durant all took home individual championships. At states Durant captured 3rd in the 110 hurdles, the 4x4 team came in 2nd and Estey received a 1st place in the 800 and went on to win the new Englands.

Athletic Honors

Senior athletes honored for four years of dedication at the annual Fisher-Kelly banquet.

At this year's Fisher-Kelly banquet, athletes, parents, and coaches gathered to honor all of the seniors that were participants in high school athletics. Once again, the guests were treated to a dinner provided by Folan's Cornucopia Restaurant.

For the second year in a row, North Attleboro reclaimed the Hockomock All-Sports trophy. Mr. Beaupre talked about how North's athletes' dedication and persistence helped them maintain the All-Sports title. The 15 athletes who remained dedicated through 3 sport seasons were rewarded with the Athletic Director Award. Due to the excess amount of money that was raised during the Blue and Red Golf Tournament, the coaches were able to provide these athletes with watches.

The guest speaker of the night, Lenny Harmon, opened up his speech with a story about his athletic career at North High. He stated that he was proud to be from North Attleboro because NAHS's spirit, pride, and determination are still the same as they were when he was in high school.

Mr. Beaupre took over at the podium and announced the MIIA Sportsmanship awards that were received by; Amanda Childs, Liz Holt, Maegan Mc-Cormick, Mike Britton, Jake Hale, and Myles Sigman. Jack Johnson followed, presenting the prestigious Dr. Maurice Grant Scholar-Athlete Award to this year's recipient, Aarti Sekhar. Mr. Whitty presented the Hockomock League Scholar Athlete Awards to the well deserved recipients, Mark DeBiasio and Aarti Sekhar.

The night ended with students talking about the memories of an exciting game, meet or match and realized that their high school athletic career has ended and their future lies ahead.

- Jaclynne Martell

Highest Honor: Aarti Sekhar and her parents graciously accept the Dr. Maurice Grant Scholar-Athlete Award from Jack Johnson.

Attentive: Senior athletes listen closely to the speaker. Lenny Harmon.

Top Dog: Athletic Director Raymond Beaupre, Jr., addresses senior athletes and their parents on the issues of sportsmanship and pride.

3-Sport Star: Mr. Beaupre presents a North watch to Stacie Bartlett in recognition of her athletic achievement.

Male Honoree: Mark DeBiasio accepts the Scholar-Athlete Award from Mr. Whitty.

Fisher-Kelly 101

Some schools have a few clubs and organizations to join but North High has everything. If you drive by North after 1:35 you'll not only see students out on the athletic fields but in the yearbook office, on the stage, in the band room, holding a meeting in a classroom and on and on.

Math League is competing with calculators while the Student Council is planning a dance Some girls may even be practicing football for the Powderpuff Game.

Any evening you might find Chorus singing their hearts out, making time for music between academics, athletics and jobs. Band is happy to see the cars zip away at the end of school so that they might march and strut in formation over the parking lots. On the second floor science wing the experiments for the science fair are being checked on 24 hours a day.

No one should spend four years at North without trying some activity beyond academics, so when they drive away from North their memories aren't just from 7:15 to 1:35

Homecoming

The Homecoming rally this year was again filled with school spirit. The cheerleaders led the students in a spirit contest with their enthusiastic cheers. The sophomores proved their spirit by blowing the competition away with a tie-breaking cheer against the juniors. Kim Breen was crowned Homecoming Queen. At the Homecoming football game, the Rocketeer fans cheered their team to a victory against the Oliver Ames tigers.

PEER LEADERS

Under the guidance of advisors Mrs. Canali and Mrs. Ouillette the Peer Leaders continued to set examples for the community. The Peer Leaders visited area elementary schools and talked to the fifth and sixth graders about many different topics. Some things included in their discussions were drugs, alcohol and peer pressure. When they weren't visiting schools, they were working with D.A.R.E. members and the "Drug Free Task Force."

The Peer Leaders have hopes of continued success with their new Presidents for 1997, Chris Rushlow and Eva Wochewoda. Many thanks go to the past officers, President Liz Fisher, Vice president Erin Carroll, Stacey Bartlett and Pat Beith.

PEER MEDIATORS

This year a new group was added to the list of activities and was known as Peer Mediation. This group of students came together to help their peers with any problems from everything in school to family. The club consisted of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, each class helping with the class below them. Hopefully this helpful group will be a permanent addition to NAHS.

Literary Magazine Has Fearless Leader

Poetry Man set a trend at NAHS never to be duplicated.

The Galadriel staff was gallantly led by Editors Cristin Healy and Ritu Sharma, Art Editor Jason Viola, Graphic Design Editor Nick Dechenes, Business Editor Charlyn Paradis, and a particularly ethereal minor diety (known as Poetry Man). Although the Galadriel's content has not changed drastically the way in which it is presented has. The magazine took a very approachable humorous tone this year and publicity soared. Gimmicks such as Poetry Man's Worst Poem of the Week familiarized students with the magazine and brought in many more submissions. The Galadriel staff's goal, to prevent their name from becoming a foreign word, was successful. Poetry Man appeared at the Sports Rally, hosted a win a date contest, read a Drama club rap, set up a web site (http://www.ici.net/cust-pages/mrdoo/mrdoo.html) and inducted Randi Viola into the International Thespain Society. With students reactions both positive and negative the Galadriel's reputation exploded.

Art Club Draws Talent

Newbury Street trip once more highlight of the year

Although it didn't achieve much compared to the last few years, the Art Club made a few valiant efforts. Officers were elected the previous year to get a head start. Elected were President Jason Viola, Vice President Natalie Condon, Secretary Emily Gerbick, Treasurer Megan Kimbrel, Public Relations Managers Petra Gianopoulos and Ray Howell.

The members of the club attempted a car wash, a bake sale, a t-shirt sale and a confetti sale, but most of their plans were thwarted by uncontrollable factors. They did however manage to distribute a newsletter and produce a World Wide Web site. They also painted festive illustrations on downtown storefront windows in October, for which the local business owners and community were very appreciative. The annual trip to Newbury Street entertained many art students with its array of diverse galleries and exibits. And although they weren't blessed with much fundraising luck, they still had heart.

Video Club captures every precious moment

"I didn't even know we had a video club!" Is that what you're saying to yourself? Well, you are not alone. Not many people realize we have a very hardworking video club at North High. They spend their time behind the scenes, but are indespensible. "Behind the scenes of what?", you ask. Behind every sporting event highlight film, drama production, and Senior Video Show is a diligent crew. It takes a lot of dedication, team work, and imagination to pull off such great footage.

Latin Club

Under the guidance of Mrs. Thibault and led by officers Joe Antosca, Melissa Carrol and Ritu Sharma, Latin Club once again had a great year.

As usual, they went on their field trip to Holy Cross to take part in the Certamen at Classics Day, but this year there was something different: North Attleboro came home with a prize. Mrs. Thibault also took students to a museum, and to the Strand Theater in Boston to see "The Robe". The in-school field trip movie was "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." The slave raffle, unlike last year, was held, but there were more rules this year.

All Latin students, because of Latin Club sponsorship, were able to participate in the National Latin Exam and several students won medals.

SADD Once Again Sets High Standards

Friends don't let friends drive drunk

The SADD Chapter at NAHS has grown larger than ever demonstrating the concern in North Attleboro about drunk driving. With President Holly Charest and advisor Mrs. Peggy Schaltegger, SADD, among other activities, sponsored the fifth annual Prom Fashion Show. However, the group had ulterior motives. They took the opportunity to ask students to please drive sober on prom night. It was also fun to see the great raffle prizes and watch as Mr. Rushlow won the manicure. Mrs. Mc-Namara and Mrs. Gordon once again did a fabulous job, and special thanks go to Boulevard Bridal.

In April, silent, white faces roamed the halls representing victims of drunk driving accidents. Several SADD members participated in the project to help students understand the fatalities of drunk driving. SADD is an important group as it uses peer pressure in a positive way. "Hopefully, if kids know other kids think drunk driving is uncool, then other students will realize how stupid it is too."

Student Council

Student Council provides Leadership for 1996.

This year's dedicated student council members started their year off with the Halloween candy sale. As usual, it was a delicious success. After sending candy to hundreds of students, the Thanksgiving food drive began. A lot of determination kicked and we were able to help the needy at a good time. The student council handed their candy-cane sale over to the cheerleaders. We felt they deserved it, but unfortunately they didn't make any profits. Instead of dealing with those candy canes, we surprised all the faculty members with apple ornaments for the holidays. We started the new year with the annual father daughter dance. Once again it was a big success and a lot of fun! In February the student council fell in love with the annual lollipop sale for Valentine's Day. In late March, the Pajama Jammy Jam finally happened. It went off on its own, not as much kicking as usual! The next event that required "all hands on deck" was appreciation week. A lot of dedication and service hours are required to make this week a big success. The faculty members loved it! As president of Student Council I would like to say good luck in the future and have a great time. Thanks to everyone for their dedication and time.

S.A.C. & S.I.C. are the heartbeat of the student body.

Early in the year, the student body elected five new members to the Student Advisory Council. The council. made up of juniors Kate Beith, Christy Bradley, Jason Gomes, Jenn Rogers and Eva Wojewoda met monthly with Mr. Whitty to discuss any issues concerning the students. The first council made up solely of juniors, brought up several issues including, block scheduling, newsletters, and most significantly the idea of sponsoring a needy child. Through the idea of Eva Wojewoda, the junior class began to sponsor a young lndian boy.

Jason Gomes was named to the School Improvement Council. He was involved in several key issues, mainly in viewing and discussing block scheduling. Jenn Rogers was a non-voting member of the school committee. Eva Wojewoda and Jenn Rogers also represented the high school at the Regional Advisory Council meetings.

A Date With Dad

A once in a lifetime opportunity to go out with the perfect date; a guy your mom would have chosen for you!

On the stormy night of January 27, 1996, dozens of girls and their fathers arrived at North Attleboro High School for the annual Father Daughter Dance, looking great despite pouring rain and power outages in some parts of town. The student council sponsors this event and it was organized by Mrs.

Caldwell. Dinner was served shortly after arrival and then everyone crowded into the freshman pit to dance. A great time was had by all. Thanks to the student council we got a chance to be reminded that we will always be "Daddy's Little Girl".

Drama Club

Every year the North Attleboro High School Drama Club showcases its talents to sell out crowds full of admiring parents, friends, faculty and fellow students. As with previous years, the 1995-1996 season would be no different.

Led by President Marissa Mobbs, Vice President Jim Kelly, Treasurer Rachel Flynn, Secretary Natalie Condon, Scribe Gina Carioggia Senior Representative Bethany Everett, Junior Rep. James Fernandes and Sophomore Rep. Lani Eidam, the Drama Club kicked off the year with the annual Dance-a-Thon. Dedicated members danced for twelve straight hours to help raise funds for the treasury.

With the fundraiser under our belts we were ready to tackle our fall production. On November 17th and 18th the North Attleboro High School Theatre Company presented "You Can't Take it With You" to near sell out crowds. The excitement of both cast and crew could be felt throughout the building and both performances went off with a bang.

With the arrival of winter came the celebrated Christmas/Holiday Dance. Once again we united for a fun-filled night of dancing and present exchanging. On January 13th Bethany Everett, Brent Robin and Jason Y. Viola tried their hands at a new type of role, the role of director. Presenting "Gloria Mundi", "Just a High School Play", and "Hurting Flies" respectively, audiences and judges alike were noticeably impressed. Awards for distinguished performance went to Jim Kelly, Lindsay Charlebois, Josh Bottomley and the cast of "Just a High School Play". Awards for Best Actor and Actress went to Mark Vigorito and Christie Holmes and taking the award for Best Play with a script written in part by our own Jason Y. Viola was "Hurting Flies".

For the Spring Musical the Theatre Company presented the long awaited yet somewhat controversial "The Fiddler on the Roof." The high school's own Mr. Britton played the part of Tevye.

The last show may have been over, but the Drama Club was far from through. On May 17th the International Thespian Society inducted seventeen new members into their troop.

Music Scores Big

Concerts, Musicals, Competitions Reach High Notes

In late August, marching band members attended the annual band camp, marking the start of yet another successful year for the music department. Being an "off" year, there was no trip to prepare for, but the musicians had to work just as hard in order to be ready for their performances.

The students began preparing for the Christmas concert, only to have it postponed until after Christmas because of a snow storm. Several musicians auditioned in the Southeast Districts and two made it to the All State Festival.

The musicians participated in the second annual exchange concert, and this year Bishop Feehan was asked to participate. Rehersals were held at Feehan and Attleboro with the concert being held in Bray Auditorium at Attleboro High School. Because of snow days the variety show was also pushed back, but it was well worth the wait.

With the variety show came the spring musical, the very popular, slightly controversial, "Fiddler on the Roof", in which our very own Mr. Britton played the part of Tevye. The pit worked very hard and as always everyone did a wonderful job.

With only two weeks to prepare for the spring concert, many feared failure, but as always, the music department pulled themselves together with the help of Mr. Britton and the student teacher Brian Battles. In the spring concert, concert band played a medley from "Miss Saigon" and chorus did pieces from "West Side Story".

May 31 the annual band awards banquet was to be the last time that the music department would be together in its entirety. Participation, first class and master musician awards were given as well as the awarding of jackets. Mr. Britton also announced that Jason "Preston" Hall would receive the John Philip Sousa Award.

Student Awareness Club

S.A.C. supports community programs

Under the leadership of Nicole Berg and Stacie Bartlett, the Student Awareness Club broke beyond boundaries this year, to make a difference in the community. Once again, the club sponsored monthly activities at Madonna Manor and members worked at the Soup Kitchen, Easter Seals, Wrentham State, and Habitat for Humanity. However, SAC did not stop there. Members bonded together to personally donate three full Thanksgiving baskets to the local food drive and to organize the "Have a Heart" campaign which raised over $400 for the "Christmas Is For Kids" program.

Also, on April 4, the SAC sponsored "A World of Difference Day". Members hosted handicap awareness activities for all Sophomores while Nicole and Stacie lead diversity awareness discussions in the classrooms.

All in all, this year was a very productive year that each member should be proud of. Thank you to all the members that made the SAC work! With love,

ROCKET CORNER/ DESKTOP PUBLISHING

Marketing and sales work together for a super successful year

Mrs. Moon's School Store is where the true spirit of NAHS comes alive. Hats, T-shirts, sweatshirts, anything could be found in Red and White. Throughout the year we were treated to her creative sales and merchandising techniques which made us all proud to wear our North-gear. Years from now when we put on one of our old North sweatshirts we will remember fondly Mrs. Moon, the school store and, of course, North High.

Throughout the year they have created numerous advertisements for the school store, re-created the Parent's Newsletter for Mr. Whitty, updated the Program of Studies book and created a handbook for Guidance. They have also written and illustrated a cookbook and a children's storybook. In addition, the class has also done many other outside advertisements and projects.

Northern Light

Yearbook lights the way, "one way or another."

The 1996 Northern Light was off to an early start, as two staff members were sent to yearbook camp at North Adams State College. They learned the latest layout and design and returned to North Attleboro with high expectations for the Northern Light. For the first time ever, Mrs. Lush asked four girls to take on the responsibilities of editors in chief, Michelle Bartucca, Nikki Berg, Jaclynne Martell, Aarti Sekhar.

The staff spent endless hours identifying pictures, gathering quotes, writing copy and snapping photos. Their deadlines seemed to arrive out of the blue and staff members found themselves practically living in the yearbook office.

The National Honor Society lent a helping hand to the staff by selling advertisements. The yearbook also offered seniors a new option, a chance to place ads from parents to graduating students.

The staff knew that "One Way Or Another" with hard work and dedication the book would be a success.

Current Events

A: The leader of the Grateful Dead was gone. Jerry Garcia, co-founder of rock music's the Grateful Dead, died of a heart attack while in a drug rehabilitation center in suburban Sanfrancisco. The guitarist, composer and singer passed away on August 9, 1995, just eight days after his 53rd birthday. Deadheads, as the group's followers were known, quickly gathered to note the passing of their fallen leader. Crowds formed in public areas in San Francisco, Garcia's hometown, and in other cities to share their loss. A single red rose was tied to a tree in front of the San Francisco address where the Dead began in 1964.

B: Despite continued NATO air strikes and U.N. peace efforts, the conflict in the former Yugoslavia rages on, with no letup in sight. 1995 began with a four month ceasefire mediated by former United States President Jimmy Carter, but the truce didn't put an end to the fighting.

C: For a few days, a religious man dominated the headlines. And for a change, it gave Americans something good to talk about. The newsmaker was Pope John Paul II, and the occasion was his visit to the U.S. in early October 1995. The 75-year-old pontiff began his five-day visti by addressing the United Nations General Assembly in con-juction with the organization's 50th anniversary.

D: On October 3, 1995, the long-running, real-life soap opera played its final episode. In "the trial of the century," O.J. Simpson was aquitted in the June 12, 1994, stabbing murder of his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and her friend, Ronald Goldman. Americans followed the trial for more than a year, listening to testimony, digesting the evidence and speculating on whether the former football superstar and film actor was guilty.

E: It was Hillary Clinton's first visit to China, and she made it a memorable one. In a speech to the United Nation's Fourth World Conference on Women, the first lady took on the world. Her speech, delivered on September 5, 1995, made a call for human rights and freedom of expression and she said that it was indefensible that many women who registered for the conference were denied visas or were unable to fully participate.

F: On the evening of October 4, 1995, Hurricane Opal came ashore on Florida's Gulf Coast, packing sustained winds of 125 miles per hour. Before it was through, the storm had killed at least 20 people in four states and caused at least 1, 8 billion in damages in insured properties, making it the third-costliest storm in U.S. history.

G: For months, baseball fans were talking about The Streak. With each game he played, Baltimore Orioles shortstop Cal Ripken Jr. drew one game closer to breaking on of baseball's "unbreakable" records. In 1939, Yankees first-baseman Lou Gehrig retired after having appeared in 2,130 consecutive games, an accomplishment that surely would never be equalled. In 1995, Ripken not only equalled it — he surpassed it, in the game against the California Angels.

H: On April 19, 1995, a car bomb exploded in Oklahoma City, destroying the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building and killing scores of men, women and young children. Shortly after the explosion, Timothy McVeigh, A Gulf War veteran was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon. Two days later, he was recognized as one of the bombing suspects and was charged.

I: It was a match between two players vying for the top position in women's tennis. On September 9, 1995, Germany's Steffi Graf emerged as #1 as she beat Monica Seles in New York to win her fourth U.S. Open Title. For Graf, it was the third consecutive Grand Slam title, coming after victories at Wimbledon and at the French Open. In spite of her defeat on the tennis court, Monica Seles feels like a victor of sorts. This loss was the first in a dozen matches that marked her inspired return to the sport after a two year absence.

J: The gathering in Washington, D.C. on October 16, 1995, was tremendous. Hundreds of thousands of African-American men converged on the nation's capital in response to the call from Louis Farrakhan, the Nation of Islam's leader, to rally for unity and brother hood. It was the fourth-largest demonstration in Washington's history, and the largest predominately African-American gathering.

In a League of Their Own

Math League takes home many prizes this year

A group of students, blessed with mathematical genius, participated in a math contest at the beginning of each month. The math contests focus on many different mathematical areas. The eighteen students competed with other schools and placed third in the Bristol County Division. Senior Aarti Sekhar lent a hand with her guidance when times seemed rough. She will be replaced by junior Sean Meierdercks who received the Math League Award. Sean received this award for showing his excellence in math and by being the highest scorer on the team.

Mrs. Clark leads this group of talented students, who represented our school in six contests. According to Jim Tessier and Steve Lesser, "Sometimes the competition gets pretty fierce, but Mrs. Clark is always there for moral support." This group tries to encourage an interest in math within everyone. The students hope to continue with their success and are eyeing first place.

National Honor Society

N.H.S. has successful Craft Fair, Food drives and all-around great year.

The National Honor Society welcomed the teachers back this year with "Teacher Survival Kits". They contained pens and pencils and most importantly TUMS to cope with the first day back.

The Honor Society's annual craft fair ran in November with much success. Some of the proceeds from that event brought two children Christmas presents through the Christmas for Kids Foundation. The Honor Society also conducted a Food Drive Contest between homerooms to benefit Lenore Paquin's Food Pantry and they also donated money for Thanksgiving turkeys.

January inductions introduced twenty-five new junior and senior members to the eighteen existing members. They volunteered in activities such as; Yearbook Ad Sales, Adaptive P.E., Science Fair, and the Walk for Hunger. Members of the Honor Society each had a buddy in the B.I.C.O. program to cheer on at the Special Olympics. It was exciting for the participants as well as for their new buddies.

Gym Has Great Leadership

Leaders end year with a great picnic as thanks for their service

Once again this year's Physical Education Leaders contributed to a long but successful year of activities. A select group of seniors are chosen each year to help out with the underclassmen. These leaders are not chosen on athletic ability, but on other qualities such as sportsmanship, leadership, and the ability to teach and get along with their peers. Each day they are responsible for leading the stretches, setting up equipment and instructing the class. I feel the enthusiasm of this year's leaders made it enjoyable for everyone. The leaders are rewarded at the end of the year with a cookout at the town park. This is a day off from school filled with enjoyable activities.

Office and Nurses Aides

Help from the student ranks keeps the school running smoothly

The secretaries can always use a little extra help. Students with a study hall take time to assist them any way they can. Childcare II

Nursery School program begins for second generation students.

Childcare is a really great program that the school offers if you plan on having children someday or would like to be a teacher. You see many different personalities in all the children and work with a few different age groups.

For half of the year you stay in the high school and teach the preschool, two periods a day, three days a week. There are usually twelve students ages four and five. They are really a cute bunch of kids because of the ages and the way they talk about things. Then for the second half of the year you go out to elementary schools to help teachers work with their classes. You can pick the school and the teacher as long as it is in grades one, two or three. That is a lot of fun too because the kids are older and it is a whole different perspective.

In the preschool this year we taught the children many different things. We taught them the alphabet, numbers 1-10, days of the week, months of the year, the seasons, many different things in sign language including the entire alphabet, we sang songs with them, and much more. We also had some community helpers come and talk to the children; the fire department, police department, electric department, Mrs. Newbury's daughter came and talked about dental hygiene, and then we walked around the school so the children could visit the nurse and the librarians. It was a really great but busy year.

This class is a really fun and exciting one to take if you like children. We feel this is a great class to take if you like children. We feel it should always be offered so everyone can have the same great experience we had.

Academic Success Is Noted

National Honor Society hosts the annual Awards Assembly

With a few days left of school, the senior class filed into the theatre knowing it was their last school assembly. Hosted by the National Honor Society, the Awards Assembly acknowledges students acheiving excellence in various academic areas. MC and National Honor Society President, Cara-Lee Williams, called the first presenter, Mr. Whitty who announced that the Valedictorian and Salutatorian of the Class of 1996 were Aarti Sekhar and Gina Carriogia respectively. He also named senior Liz Fisher as the recipient of the DAR Good Citizen award. Jenn Rogers, Ben Caranci and Marcia Sajewicz accepted the Brown, Harvard and Smith Book awards.

Mr. Whitty then gave the microphone to Ms. Samma who presented the Humanities awards. Ms. Cobb. Mr. Britton and Mr. Bellisimo all presented awards. They gave certificates for Excellence in Theatre, Music and Occupational Education. Mrs. Thibault then read off a long list of National Latin Honor Society members and National Latin Exam Medalists. She also announced that for the first time ever, North Attleboro High School came home from the annual Certamen at the College of the Holy Cross with an award. Cara-Lee Williams then read the list of Honor Roll students and concluded the assembly

Current Events

PART II

A: The first U.S. Apache and Blackhawk helicopters roared into Bosnia on December 24, 1995, a tangible sign of a NATO mission, commanders said, was on target and taking control of front-line positions. While the eight American helicopters were arriving in the northern city of Tuzla, the headquarters for U.S. troops, French soldiers were extending control in Sarajevo, where a curfew was lifted for Christmas Eve and Christmas.

B: Despite playing nowhere near their best, the Dallas Cowboys won their third Super Bowl in four seasons on January 18, 1996, beating Pittsburgh 27-17. And they did it behind the heroics of cornerback Larry Brown, whose career has been spent in the shadow of glamour guys named Troy, Michael, Emmit, and Deion. With this win, the Cowboys placed themselves in elite company. No team has gotten that many Super Bowl titles in such a short span.

C: An Amtrack train derailed around 1AM on October 9, 1995, while crossing a trestle in a remote desert region of Arizona, 55 miles southwest of Phoenix. One person was killed and more than 70 were injured. What made the news even worse was the suspicion of sabotage. Found also at the scene was a letter that made references to the federal seiges at Waco, Texas, and Ruby Ridge, Idaho, raising fears that the derailment was the work of anti-government terrorists.

D: President Bill Clinton entered the third year of his term as no president has done for 40 years — with a Republican Congress. As he began this new year, he resolved to "put aside partisan differences." In April 1995, the Senate passed a bill that cut $16 billion from various social programs while sparing other items favored by Clinton. However, the gap, did remain wide over issues such as tax cuts, welfare reform, and spending reductions. On April 14, Clinton also made formal his candidacy for re-election.

E: In April 1995, Kansas Senator, Bob Dole, became the sixth Republican to formally declare his candidacy for president in 1996. This is the third presidential attempt for Dole. Dole's bid to become president does not have precedence on its side — only three times have sitting Senators been elected as president. Also, if elected, Dole would be 73 years old upon entering office, making him the oldest newly elected president in history.

F: The first detailed image of a distant star shows that the red giant Betelgeuse has a single, gargantuan hot spot that may be 12,000 degrees and an atmosphere extending much farther into space than once thought. A Hubble Space Telescope image of Betelgeuse gives for the first time details of a star other than the sun and suggests that it may have dramatic physical differences from the sun.

G: On September 5, 1995, France resumed underground nuclear testing when it detonated a device under a remote atoll in the South Pacific. Preceding the nuclear test, Anti-nuclear demonstrations were staged in Paris, Tokyo, Switzerland, Australia, and Hiroshima. Two days of rioting, looting, and firebombing exploded in Papeete, Tahiti, which lies about 750 miles from the test site.

H: This summer it seemed Hootie and the Blowfish were playing every time you turned on the radio. Hootie won an MTV Award for best new artist for their video, "Hold My Head." Other big winners of the night were TLC and Wheezer, while Madonna lashed out at Bob Dole for his criticism of some rap records.

I: Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was shot to death on November 4, 1995, moments after telling cheering thousands that "people really want peace." Rabin was a war hero who became a peacemaker, and police said an Israeli described by friends as a right-winger confessed to firing the fatal shots.

J: The Cleveland Indians and the Atlanta Braves squared off in the first World Series in two years. This was, perhaps, the first between teams with politically incorrect names. The Braves won the series in six games, after taking a two-games-to-nonc lead in their home park. They won the series on their return to Atlanta with a 1-0 victory.

Seniors, by the time you read this introduction, you will be gone forever from the halls of NAHS. We all have gone our separate ways — college, the military, or the workplace. However, we are still, and always will be, the class of 1996. Cherish the happiness, the tears, and the friendships of the past four years.

In our final year of high school, we truly came together as a class, forgetting disagreements and breaking down the walls. We danced together at the Senior Reception, sweated together at the the Senior/Faculty Softball Game, laughed together at Class Day, and walked to "Pomp and Circumstance" together at graduation. In these conclusive times, we reflected on the past, while looking forward to new beginnings.

You now have stepped over the threshold of this beginning. Good luck in your futures! Here's a few pages that capture some memories.

Faculty Humbles Seniors on the Field

One more time the faculty shows what fine athletes they are on the softball field.

This year's annual senior vs. faculty softball game, unfortunately, did not quiet the cocky faculty players. Jack Johnson's and Mr. Estey's homeruns just could not be stopped.

However, the seniors did not go out quietly. They experienced a huge turnaround when Glenn Gaumond was physically pulled out of the game and Erina Baker was put in for some real relief pitching. Erina struck out everyone from Mr. Beaupre to Mr. Klenk; even Mr. Whitty was looking a little nervous. However, the faculty prevailed, winning by only a couple of runs.

But, the seniors did pay the faculty back, earlier, by putting in some tough orders for burgers and dogs. From the looks of the talent in the volleyball game, maybe the seniors should have challenged the faculty to a different game.

A Day of Reminiscing

Class Day / Class Night

The class of 1996 filed into the gym for the annual Informal Class Day. With the rest of the school present, the students listened to Jake Hale, Nicole Berg and Holly Charest, recite the class history from 1992 to 1996. The class of 1996's history involved entering the uncertain hallways as freshmen to ending the long winding road of their high school career. The class officers then read off the class will, where special memories and inside jokes were shared among friends.

It soon came time for the yearbook Editors-in Chief, Aarti Sekhar, Nicole Berg, Michelle Bartucca and Jaclynne Martell, to announce the yearbook dedication. To everyone's surprise, this year's yearbook dedication was a little out of the ordinary, for the class of 1996 gave the yearbook to a well deserved couple. Mr. and Mrs. Thibault, an enthusiastic history teacher and a popular Latin teacher, have influenced and inspired all their students.

The Informal Class Day ended traditionally with the senior slide show. The video presentation was produced by Lynn Turcotte and John LeCompte and the rest of the advanced video class. The seniors and the rest of the school watched sentimental and memorable pictures displayed on the screen, set to the beat of a variety of music.

At Formal Class Night, the evening began with Gina Carrioga and Mark Vigorito singing the National Anthem. The night was carried on by a series of award distributions. Maegan McCormick received the Crockett Award for service, 7 Presidential Awards were given out and several Principal Awards were given to students for different academic honors. The night was also filled with the voices from three essavists: Tara Holmes, Beth Everett, and Saminaz Zaman, who shared their version of their high school experience.

As the night slowly settled down, a group of selected seniors sang the class song, "ST. Elmo's Fire", which sent out a message to the class of 1996 that "there is a new horizon under the blazing sky, where the eagles are flying higher and higher." The class was left thinking that their future is a new horizon which lies before them, and that this was one of the last moments that the class of 1996 would stand as one.

On the Road Again

Graduation

Chances of rain pushed graduation ceremonies indoors on June 9th, 1996, but the Senior's spirits could not be dampened. As the Class of '96 gathered in the auditorium for the last round of marching instructions, Mr. Whitty reminded them that this would be their last time all together. The Senior year he had told them would fly by did, and they were finally at that much awaited day: graduation. Filled with sadness and excitement, the 180 members marched into the gym for the last time.

After Jake Hale led the packed gym in the Pledge and Moment of Silence, Gina Carioggia and Mark Vigorito dazzled the audience with their duet of the National Anthem. Then, Gina delivered her insightful Salutatory address entitled "Graduation Presence." In it, she emphasized that hard work is its own reward, but a little recognition goes a long way. Following her address was a moving rendition of "Man in Motion." Tassels bopped from side to side as graduates moved to the rhythm.

Then came Valedictorian Aarti

Sekhar's moving speech "Learning to Unlearn." In it, she reminded the audience of the Golden Rule and treating everyone with kindness and respect. Her speech was met by a standing ovation and many tears.

Other speakers included Dr. Dan DelVecchio, the commencement speaker. He captivated the audience, reminding them to strive for their goals, but never to forget their family and friends.

The Graduation proceeded with many academic and athletic honors, as well as thousands of dollars in scholarships. But, the packed (and now sticky) gym could not wait for the presentation of diplomas. Each senior proudly walked across the stage and received their diploma and ticket to the real world. Many were relieved and excited, while others cried tears of sadness that their high school experience was over. With a toss of the tassels, the Class of '96 became alumni with only memories of North High. They had shared their experience at Exit 5 together, but now it was time to get back on the road again.

ONE WAY OR ANOTHER

As we look back in our rearview mirrors, we see all the laughs, the tears, and the pride the year 1996 has brought to us. Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors move up in the world of high school. Seniors, on the other hand, must wave good-bye as they look ahead to the many roads and paths of the future — which way to turn? What is my destination?

We, your Editors-In-Chief, dedicated yearbook staff, and more than devoted advisor, Mrs. Lush, have put in countless hours to make this a most memorable yearbook — to capture the memories of state tournaments, Superbowls, regional science fairs, select chorus, and Fiddler on the Roof. This is your life — one year in the face of many.

Good Luck to the underclassmen in what ever road you choose to follow. Oh . . . and Seniors, one way or another, you can always stop and ask for directions.

Best Wishes! Editors-In-Chief: Nicole Berg Jaclynne Martell Aarti Sekhar Michelle Bartucca

We, the Class of '96, would like to dedicate this year's yearbook to the following person. Inside the classroom she passed down to us her love for Latin. Whether she was telling us mythology stories or grilling us on vocab, her enthusiasm made us want to learn. Outside of the classroom, she was the driving force behind the Latin Club. We will always remember the slave raffles, bake sales, toga parties, movies, trips to Latin competitions and museums. This teacher kept the classics alive at North.

She taught us to conjugate verbs and put up with us when we "tried" to learn the endings for all our declensions. She is our beloved Latin Club advisor and senior study teacher.

This is our most unusual dedication because the Class of 1996 would also like to dedicate the yearbook to a teacher who has a love for history. History is a word that holds deep meaning. Through history, we learn truth, ancestry, and future direction. History depicts the power of man, the destruction of hate, and the beauty of peace. This year's recipient of the yearbook dedication provided students with the vehicle to acquire these truths that this subject teaches. His enthusiastic approach in teaching is an inspiration to all of his students. He prepared us for the future by teaching us about the past.

More importantly, this man was coupled with another person who guided us through our exploration of knowledge. Unfortunately, we will be the last senior class to enjoy this couple's expertise, and we say expertise because it wasn't just facts and figures that they brought to the classroom, but genuine enthusiasm for General Grant's victory at Vicksburg or Caesar's Gaelic Wars. They generated energy and a genuine love for learning in the classroom that will be sincerely missed upon their departure from North Attleboro High School.

Therefore, we would like to dedicate this year's yearbook to Mr. and Mrs. Thibault.
